

ARKANSAS TORNADO DEATH TOLL 39

LIQUOR SELLING IS RESTORED TO SHIPS UNDER NEW OWNERS

U. S. Liners, Long Dry,
Will Carry Supply Of Liquor

NEW YORK, April 11.—The policy of selling liquor while on the high seas has been restored to the ten trans-Atlantic passenger ships of the United States line.

The ships have been dry since 1923 and the changed policy was announced when the line's flagship the Leviathan, sailed yesterday for Cherbourg and Southampton on her maiden voyage under the new owners.

Joseph E. Sheedy, executive vice president of the newly organized United States Lines, Inc., which bought the Leviathan and nine other liners from the United States shipping board, said a survey has indicated that the vessels would be under a serious handicap in competition with European lines if liquor were not restored.

Legal opinions obtained before the order was issued assured him that no laws would be broken if liquor were sold only outside the twelve-mile limit, Sheedy said.

No concern at the decision to sell liquor was manifested at Washington or among customs men here.

There will be no open bar on the United States liners, Sheedy explained, but orders for liquor will be filled in the dining and smoking rooms in a manner that will "not be objectionable in any way."

On the eastbound trips the liquor stocks will be opened when the twelve-mile limit is reached. A supply of liquor will be taken aboard in European ports for the westbound trip, but when the twelve-mile limit is reached all liquor that remains aboard must be locked under the medical supplies.

If the supply exceeds the quantity specified as permissible as medicine in port, the surplus must be thrown overboard.

Prohibition leaders did not take kindly to a "wet" Leviathan. "The United States Line is making a mistake if it really intends to sell liquor on the Leviathan," said Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington, sponsor of the Jones act. "I don't know how far it ought to go to stop it, but it ought to go as far as it can. An American ship is American territory."

FIVE DIE WHEN PLANE CRASHES

MEXICO CITY, April 11.—Government and aviation officials left for Tampico today to make a complete investigation of the airplane crash at Tampico in which five persons were killed.

Representatives of the Mexican Aviation Company at Tampico said that the motor died in mid-air after the plane had hopped off on its intended journey to Brownsville, Texas.

The dead were Dennis W. Taylor, pilot; G. A. Frazier of Brownsville; a Brownsville taxicab driver named Robinson; J. A. Fernandez of Mexico City; and the company pilot, who was riding as a passenger.

Frazier, who was a well-known Brownsville engineer, was the builder of the international bridge at Brownsville and had made frequent trips to Mexico to visit his fiancée.

ROADHOUSE NEAR DOVER IS RAIDED

DOVER, O., April 11.—The state prohibition department's campaign to "dry up" Dover and environs, was expected to be continued today following the raiding of Venice Tavern, a roadhouse in Sugar Creek Road, near here.

The building housing the resort is owned by former Mayor P. J. Groh who was ousted last week after a state prohibition agent charged he accepted a $50 "protection" bribe from him.

The raid was made on complaint of a truant officer who said the parents of school students had complained against the place.

Jack Valentine and Joe Pastor, proprietors of the tavern, were taken into custody after the agents found seventeen bottles of alleged beer.

Valentine and Pastor are relative of Curly Ross whose home agents recently raided.

AUTOIST KILLED IN AUTO COLLISION

CLEVELAND, April 11.—One man is dead and two other persons are in hospitals today, the victims of an automobile collision at an intersection in Highland Heights village.

Peter Nolan, 55, was killed and Henry Wilms, driver of the truck on which Nolan was riding, and Mrs. Frank Gleason, driver of the other auto, were injured.

MOB VICTIM SUES

Denying charges that he was intimate with a married woman, H. L. Vanhorne, 34, of St. Clairsville, O., has filed suit against the county for $1,000 as damages for a beating he says was administered by a gang of nine night riders who kidnaped him.

DAWES WILL BE CONFIRMED BY PROMPT ACTION

Expect Senate Will Not Oppose His Appointment

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The senate is expected to confirm practically without discussion the appointment of former Vice President Dawes to be ambassador to Great Britain.

Though Dawes made an undiplomatic acquaintance with the senate four years ago, lecturing it on its antiquated rules when he was inaugurated, he finished his term with a large number of senate friendships.

The nomination probably will be sent to the senate Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee is supporting the appointment. Prompt confirmation is expected.

Dawes, regarded as the most blunt and outspoken man in public life, is being entrusted by Mr. Hoover with the most delicate foreign mission of the administration. Relations with Great Britain have been less satisfactory than in many years due to the disagreement over naval limitation which developed at the Geneva arms conference in the summer of 1927.

Dawes has indicated publicly he felt that failure was due to mismanagement and he has urged the two governments not to permit disputes of experts to endanger the friendship of the two countries.

Dawes voiced these views in dedicating the international bridge at Buffalo, N. Y., in August, 1927, a few days after the Geneva conference collapsed. Among those present were the Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, and Premier Baldwin.

Dawes spoke bluntly about the naval conference which had just collapsed, explaining this might have been due to inadequate preparation.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS FORCED TO RESIGN

DELAWARE, O., April 11.—The Delaware school board was without a clerk and secretary today after a bitter dispute with the citizens' advisory committee over plans for the erection of a new high school here.

The school would replace the one recently damaged by fire.

The clerk and secretary, Mrs. Martha Battenfield and Fred Benson, resigned at the committee's request but Dr. A. J. Pounds, president of the board, refused to quit and said he "would take the request under consideration."

At the board meeting convened members of the committee bluntly told the members that a proposed bond issue to finance the school would not be passed if the present board personnel remained.

FORD GRANTED STAY

CINCINNATI, O., April 11.—Rodney Ford of Cincinnati, who is in the death house at the state penitentiary awaiting execution for the murder of Peter Dumele, marshal of North College Hill, was granted a stay of execution today by the court of appeals.

Neutrals Warned To Leave Naco; Juarez Is Peaceful

By United Press
Additional American troops were sent to the Mexican border from Fort Bliss and Fort D. A. Russell today as a precautionary measure to protect American lives and property in the event of renewed fighting at Naco, Sonora, and other points along the border.

These troops, made up of infantry, cavalry and field artillery, will reinforce the border patrol already on duty. They were under orders from Major General William Lasister.

The garrison of 900 federals continued to hold Naco but expected another rebel attack at any moment, they said and warned American citizens to evacuate the city. The federals said they expected a gas attack by the rebels.

There seemed little likelihood of a concerted rebel attack on Naco at the present. General Topete, leader of the rebels at Naco, conferred with General Escobar yesterday, it was reported. It was considered likely that the rebels would postpone their attack until Escobar's main army had arrived from Chihuahua. The present location of this army was not known.

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 11.—The tinkle of glasses and the music of the halls, suppressed for thirty-four days by rebel invaders, was resumed today with the re-occupation of the holiday city of Juarez by loyal soldiers.

Tourists returned to the city to join residents in celebrating the return of the federal forces, driven out in the battle of March 7.

With the surrender of the small rebel garrison of 125 men and re-establishment of federal government in the city the re-occupation was complete.

Re-occupation was accomplished without disorder by an advance detachment of General Juan Almazan's army and the former army of Colonel Manuel Prieto which halted outside Guadalupe Tuesday night after General Marcelo Caraveo, millionaire governor of Chihuahua, had led 2,000 of his army in a hasty flight westward to Casa Grandes.

General Mauro Martinez, rebel collector of the port, invaded by rheumatism, surrendered the city and his men unconditionally.

BOMB WRECKS PAPER OFFICE

CHICAGO, April 11.—A powerful bomb, tossed from a speeding automobile, wrecked the office of the Suburban Leader, a community newspaper in Cicero, and blew away the wall of an adjacent garage building today.

The newspaper office was wrecked. The garage, occupied by a taxicab company, was damaged severely. No one was injured.

Police believed the bomb was intended for the cab company building, explaining that the cab company had been involved in a taxi war in the last few weeks.

BUNION CARAVAN IS NEARING OHIO

WAYNESBURG, Pa., April 11.—The trans-continental runners of C. Pyle's cross-country derby left Waynesburg, last control stop in Pennsylvania, today and headed for Wheeling, W. Va.

From Wheeling the businessmen will move on into Ohio, making their first stop in that state at Cambridge.

Paul Simpson, of Burlington, N. C., led the runners in the eleventh lap from Uniontown, Pa., yesterday. He made the distance of thirty-three miles in 1:46:15.

The leading three in elapsed time as they left Waynesburg were: Ed Gardner, Seattle, 68:11:10; John Salo, Passaic, N. J., 70:53:42 and Peter Gavuzzi, England, 70:57:37.

WILL OF THE PEOPLE
CLEVELAND, April 11.—M. M. Spangler, mayor of the village of Bentleyville, near Chagrin Falls, was assured today of another term in office as the result of an election in which twenty-one votes were cast.

Spangler was approved by all of the twenty-one voters. So were nine other candidates, all running without opposition.

ENTIRE TOWN OBLITERATED

Tornado Levels Village In Five Minutes Survivor Reports.

BATESVILLE, Ark., April 11.—Within five minutes after the tornado struck the little town of Guion last night the village was virtually obliterated, W. E. Weaver, a resident of Guion, told the United Press today.

"I had just time enough to get to the storm cellar when it struck from the west," Weaver said. "I heard it coming and rushed out of the house to the storm house, just in time."

"When I knew from the sound that it had passed, I opened the storm door and saw practically every structure in town had been blown away. Probably seventy-five buildings were leveled."

"When I first saw the storm, it was hurling huge timbers and trees into the air."

"After it had passed, the Missouri Pacific depot was demolished, some forty houses were destroyed and nothing but the vault was left of the Guion bank. Seven stories were in ruins."

"Only five buildings in town escaped and no one has a home."

AFFIDAVIT SAYS ANOTHER SLEW MAN FOR WHICH SABO MAY DIE

COLUMBUS, April 11.—An affidavit declaring another man committed the murder for which John Sabo, Akron Hungarian, is condemned to death, was filed in the governor's office today.

Sabo is doomed to die on May 3. The affidavit was filed by Mrs. Anna Kavacs of Akron who said her nephew, Nick Lengvel, has admitted killing Burton C. Painter, for whose death Sabo was convicted and sentenced.

The affidavit was accompanied by others.

Sabo's mother, Mrs. Joseph Hedebar, filed one in which she says Joseph J. Ivory, interpreter at her son's trial, has offered to save the condemned man for $3,500.

A third, filed by Mrs. Teresa Kelleman, Buffalo, N. Y., says a relative, Rudolph Kelleman, of Akron, had told her Sabo was not guilty but "that he would be crazy to admit it against his best friend."

Accompanying the affidavits was a request from Mrs. Cornelia C. Kalassay, Hungarian social worker at Akron, for executive clemency. The governor was expected to consider the case today.

On Sunday, Sabo will have been in death row at the state penitentiary for two years.

GRUBER DISBARRED FROM LAW PRACTICE ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Second Disbarment Resulting From Beer Scandal

CINCINNATI, O., April 11.—Adolph Gruber, Cincinnati attorney who was involved in the Buckley beer protection scandal, was ordered disbarred from the practice of law today by three common pleas court judges, Judges Thomas H. Darby, Thomas H. Morrow and Chester R. Shook.

The disbarment of Gruber follows similar action against John L. Schrimper, another Cincinnati attorney, who was sentenced to fifteen months in Atlanta for his part in the alleged plot.

Former State Treasurer Bert B. Buckley who was also involved and is under sentence to two years and six months, also faces disbarment.

Buckley, Schrimper and Joseph Sperber, brewmeister of the Jackson Brewery here, were indicted last fall on charges of conspiring to bribe a federal agent to protect beer manufactured in the brewery. Gruber was named a co-conspirator but was not indicted.

In disbarring Gruber the judges said:

"The court is unanimously of the opinion that the evidence offered in this case proves that Adolph A. Gruber is guilty of misconduct and unprofessional conduct in his office as an attorney at law, and that he was engaged in a plan with one John L. Schrimper and Bert B. Buckley, whereby the said Buckley agreed to use his political influence and his official position, to prevail upon one Eckhart, a professional prohibition officer, to fail and refuse to enforce the laws of the United States, as set forth in the charges."

Gruber took the disbarment calmly.

SEVEN HUNDRED AT ROTARY MEETING

ZANESVILLE, April 11.—More than 700 delegates to the southern Ohio district Rotary Club conference had registered when the first business session was called to order here today.

District Governor Robert D. Hughes, Dayton, delivered the principal address at this morning's session and submitted his report of activities in the district for the past year.

Other speakers today were M. Eugene Newsome, Durham, N. C., chairman of the aims and objects committee, International Rotary; S. Wade Marr, Raleigh, N. C., International Rotary director; and Robert Patterson, Dayton, past district governor and International Rotary vice president. They stressed Rotary Club activities throughout the world.

Election of district officers will be held at tomorrow's session.

SUGGESTED TARIFF INCREASE ON SUGAR WILL COST FARMERS

Economists Assert Expense Of Sugar Buy-
ers To Raise

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Calculations by economists that the proposed farm relief tariff increase to be taken up by the congress which meets next week would take $25,000,000 net from the pockets of the farmers themselves, aroused interest here today.

The latest argument by the economists is in the form of a survey conducted under John R. Commons, noted University of Wisconsin economist, and two colleagues, received just after reports were circulated to the effect a house sub-committee has approved the sugar increase asked.

The proposed increase, according to the economists' survey, would cost every family in the country about $5 more a year for sugar. The 6,300,000 farm families, consuming an average of 405 pounds annually, would not be hit as hard as the city families, which average 432 pounds.

The sugar-growing farmers who would benefit by the tariff, constituting three per cent of the farm total, would profit by about $6,000,000 according to statistics.

Stated in another way, the total protection of the present tariff is $43,000,000 for the sugar farmers, and all the farmers pay $64,000,000 more for sugar under the present tariff; a net cost of the present tariff to farmers of $21,000,000 according to the economists.

The proposed tariff would provide $69,000,000 total in "protection," and the total tariff increase in the sugar purchased by farmers would be $97,000,000—a net loss to farmers of $28,000,000.

The present tariff on Cuban sugar is 1.8 and 1.9 cents a pound, but intermediate charges by hand-carriers would increase the consumption cost of tariff to 2.45 cents a pound.

The economists calculated the total ultimate consumer cost of the tariff on sugar would be increased from $293,000,000 to $443,000,000 by the congressional proposal; the government's tariff revenue from $134,000,000 to $213,000,000. Sugar taxes make up one-fourth of the import revenues of the government.

Charles Marsee, 27, federal prohibition informer from Bryanville, Ky., was arraigned before the United States Commissioner here today on charges of "selling protection" and impersonating a federal agent.

W. F. Marcus, chief of the federal raiders here, said he and fellow agents trapped Marsee in a downtown hotel in the act of accepting $300 from John Bauer, Ludlow, Ky., at whose resort Marsee claimed he had purchased liquor.

Marcus said the trap was set after Marsee approached Bauer and exhibiting two bottles of whiskey, offered to destroy them "for due reimbursement."

Bauer went to the district attorney's office, Marcus said, and it was arranged that Bauer should meet Marsee in the hotel, conduct negotiations and "pay protection money."

The meeting took place and as the alleged "deal" was consummated, Marcus and other agents entered the room and arrested Marsee.

PLANTED BOMB IN HERO ROLE

NEW YORK, April 11.—The mystery surrounding the bomb found in the mails at the post office here Sunday addressed to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, has collapsed into the rather pathetic story of a man who wanted to be a hero and thereby get a raise in pay.

Thomas J. Callegly, 45, postoffice porter, whose supposedly accidental kick caused a spurt of acrid smoke of house matches and disclosed the device, confessed to U. S. District Attorney Charles H. Tuttle today that he had manufactured the "bomb" and planted it in the post office where he worked so that he himself might discover it.

For eight years, he explained, he has worked as a porter in the post office, getting $1,600 a year and on that struggling to support a mother and sister.

CHARGED WITH MURDER
MARION, April 11.—Mrs. Stella Johnson was remanded to jail today to await trial on charges of murdering her husband who was shot to death while he lay sleeping. Mrs. Johnson, when arraigned, pleaded not guilty.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., April 11.—The labor situation in this section assumed a new expression today with the charge by Sam R. Sells, president of the Johnson City Chamber of Commerce, that representatives of the American Federation of Labor had made false statements in connection with the labor troubles.

Sells offered to pay $1000 to the federation if the statements he mentioned were proved true.

He charged the federation with complete responsibility for the recent troubles in that "many misstatements have been made and apparently every effort been made to incite discord and strife between employee and employer."

Sells referred directly to federation President William Green's statement at Elizabethton where Green commented on a statement attributed to the Chamber of Commerce saying the people of the region were simple minded and wanted but little.

Sells denied such a picture had been painted.

While in France during the war, as chief of the American supply purchasing organization, Daves gave one of his pipes to Marshal Foch. It took the great strategist two weeks to get the "feel" of the new "upside-down" device. Later he became an enthusiast and wrote Daves an amazing and chatty letter thanking him.

Europe faces a new era of Daves pipes. The diplomatic corps is guessing whether the new United States ambassador to the Court of St. James will give his first pipe to King George or Premier Stanley Baldwin.

Daves buys his famous underslung pipes by the dozen and gives them away wherever he goes. He thinks they solve the pipe smokers problem. He has often told his friends that he had made more friends with his pipe than with any personal attribute. And since both Baldwin and Ramsey MacDonald, the labor leader, are pipe smokers, Anglo-American relations may be headed for a period of cool, sweet, underslung diplomacy.

SPECIAL HANDLING

The delicate situation raised by the dropping of bombs on U. S. soil by rebel planes at Naco, Texas, will be handled by Roberto W. Pesqueira, special Mexican diplomatic envoy. In the meantime, U. S. planes, fully equipped for duty, have been ordered to repel any further flying over the international border.

HERRICK'S BODY TO REST IN CLEVELAND CATHEDRAL SUNDAY

Plans Changed But Parade Of Honor Will Be Monday

CLEVELAND, April 11.—Former Ambassador Myron T. Herrick's body will be taken to Trinity Episcopal Cathedral here Sunday instead of Monday it was indicated today as the funeral committee worked to complete its arrangements.

Parmely Herrick, the ambassador's son, talked to Rollin A. Wilbur, vice-president of the Herrick company and a member of the committee, by telephone last night and expressed a desire for that change in the program.

The funeral services are to be conducted by Bishop Andrew Leonard, assisted by Bishop Coadjutor Warren L. Rogers and Dean Francis S. White. The parade of honor will be held Monday as planned.

Andrew Squire, an old personal friend of the ambassador's and chairman of the general arrangements committee, has left Cleveland for New York to be there when the French Cruiser Tourville arrives with the ambassador's body.

Twelve French sailors will remain with the body, as an honor guard, until the final funeral services are held here. Nine non-commissioned officers of the Ohio National Guard and petty officers of the Ohio Naval Militia will act as pallbearers. There will be no honorary pallbearers.

Admission to the funeral services will be by card. Squire, before he left, issued a request that no flowers be sent. He said Ambassador Herrick had expressed a desire for no flowers at his funeral, and said none would be used at the church. An American flag will be draped over the casket.

Tribute to the late ambassador will be paid Monday by thousands of Cleveland school children. Classes will be halted at 10 a. m. for a five minute discussion of the services that Ambassador Herrick rendered to the nation.

FOUR WIVES DIE; WEDS AGAIN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 11.—"I'm ready to take another chance," declared Alvine D. Allen, 21, as he approached the marriage license clerk here with his prospective bride, Mrs. Jennie E. McGeehan, 68.

A license was issued and the couple were married by the Rev. Virgil E. Turner at the Struthers M. E. Church.

Allen has been married four times but all his former wives have died.

The first time he embarked on a matrimonial venture, 51 years ago, it was not necessary to secure a license, he said.

CHICKENS STOLEN

Theft of sixty-five Barred Rock chickens valued at $125 from Horace W. Anderson, Dayton-Xenia Pike, last Monday night, has been reported to county authorities. An investigation was made by Deputy Sheriff George Sugden, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Anderson.

SUES FOR $40,000

MARION, O., April 11.—Thomas Coy has brought suit for $40,000 against the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Traction Company, alleging the company was responsible for the death of one of his sons, and serious injury of the other. One of the sons was killed and the other badly burned when they came in contact with an electric transformer.

STORM SWEEPS PATH THROUGH VILLAGES; RELIEF IS RUSHED

Entire Village Is Lev-
eled; Wind Hits
Lake Erie

NEWPORT, Ark., April 11.—National and state organizations rushed aid today to five northeastern Arkansas counties, where a devastating tornado last night cut a five-mile path of death and destruction.

Thirty-nine persons were known dead in the storm wrecked towns of Sneeds, Guion, Parkin and Swifton in the foothills of the Ozark mountains. Reports of additional deaths, as yet unconfirmed, trickled in over crippled communication lines from Moorefield, Diaz, Prineedale, Bay Village, and Batesville.

With the entire village of Guion leveled and 100 homes in the community of Sneeds wrecked, relief agencies concentrated search on these two settlements today for additional dead and injured.

The known dead were distributed as follows: Sneeds 14; Alicia, 11; Guion 3; Parkin 2; Batesville Hospital 3; Lorado 6.

Nearly 100 of the more seriously injured from the region of Sneeds, Alicia and Swifton were taken to the hospital at Batesville, which escaped the storm. Three of the injured died shortly after day-break.

Sneeds, a little community 44 miles from Swifton, bore the brunt of the storm with a death toll of fourteen known dead. Eleven were killed in the nearby village of Alicia. Guion was obliterated except for five small homes on the edge of the community. The town bank was reduced to a pile of wreckage, only the vault remaining standing.

The mortuary at Swifton, first town in the path of the tornado, held the bodies of the dead in the community around Sneeds and Alicia.

As Red Cross workers arrived from New Port and Little Rock to organize the relief, additional fear was felt because of the swollen condition of the White and Black Rivers, already past flood stages and threatening to inundate the storm-swept area.

CLEVELAND, O., April 11.—Summer resorts and fishing colonies along Lake Erie from Buffalo to Sandusky were taking stock today of the damage caused by high winds which sent huge waves rushing over docks and breakwaters and swelled inland streams. Cleveland escaped the worst of the storm.

At Put-In-Bay small craft and numerous docks, including those of the state and federal fish hatcheries were swept away by the pounding seas.

Huge waves did similar damage at Avon Lake, Cedar Point, Kellys, Middle and North Bass Islands and Big Island off East Sandusky was reported almost submerged.

Veteran lake men said the storm was unusual in that it caused the water to rise over such an extended area.

Among the summer resorts where shore cottages were damaged were Rye Beach, Whites Landing, Dew Drop, Crystal Rock Park and in the neighborhood of Port Clinton.

Fishing fleets along the lake were kept in their ports, nets were torn and destroyed and even in Lorain, where fishermen have been comparatively immune from storms for years, all commercial activities were suspended.

The Black River left its banks at Lorain and flooded Riverview Park. Toledo reported flood waters pouring into basements, and flooding nearby summer resorts.

Eleven families were rescued from their water-surrounded homes at Point Place by firemen and fishermen.

ACCUSE OFFICIAL OF EMBEZZLING

LONDON, O., April 11.—Ralph Thomas, superintendent of the Madison County Home for fifteen years, was under indictment today on charges of embezzlement of county funds over a period extending from July 20, 1927, to April 8, 19

NEW YORK, April 11.—The policy of selling liquor while on the high seas has been restored to the ten trans-Atlantic passenger ships of the United States line.

The ships have been dry since 1923 and the changed policy was announced when the line's flagship the Leviathan, sailed yesterday for Cherbourg and Southampton on her maiden voyage under the new owners.

Joseph E. FIVE DIE WHEN PLANE CRASHES

MEXICO CITY, April 11.—Government and aviation officials left for Tampico today to make a complete investigation of the airplane crash at Tampico Field in which five persons were killed.

Representatives of the Mexican Aviation Company at Tampico said that the motor died in mid-air after the plane had hopped off on its intended journey to Brownsville, Texas.

The dead were Dennis W. Taylor, pilot; G. A. Frazier of Brownsville; a Brownsville taxicab driver named Robinson; J. A. Fernandez, of Mexico City; and Blaine Newcomb, one of the company pilots, who was riding as a passenger.

Frazier, who was a well-known Brownsville engineer, was the builder of the international bridge at Brownsville and had made frequent trips to Mexico to visit his fiancée.

ROADHOUSE NEAR DOVER IS RAIDED

DOVER, O., April 11.—The state prohibition department's campaign to "dry" Dover and environs, was expected to be continued today following the raiding of Venice Tavern, a roadhouse in Sugar Creek Road, near here.

The building housing the resort is owned by former Mayor P. J. Groh who was ousted last week after a state prohibition agent charged he accepted a $50 "protection" bribe from him.

The raid was made on complaint of a truant officer who said the parents of school students had complained against the place.

Jack Valentine and Joe Pastor, proprietors of the tavern, were taken into custody after the agents found seventeen bottles of alleged beer.

Valentine and Pastor are relative of Curly Ross whose home agents recently raided.

Neutrals Warned To Leave Naco; Juarez Is Peaceful

By United Press
Additional American troops were sent to the Mexican border from Fort Bliss and Fort D. A. Russell today as a precautionary measure to protect American lives and property in the event of renewed fighting at Naco, Sonora, and other points along the border.

These troops, made up of infantry, cavalry and field artillery, will reinforce the border patrol already on duty. They were under orders from Major General William Lassiter.

The garrison of 900 federals continued to hold Naco but expected another rebel attack at any moment, they said, and warned American citizens to evacuate the city. The federals said they expected a gas attack by the rebels.

There seemed little likelihood of a concerted rebel attack on Naco at the present. General Topete, leader of the rebels at Naco, conferred with General Escobar yesterday, it was reported. It was considered likely that the rebels would postpone their attack until Escobar's main army had arrived from Chihuahua. The present location of this army was not known.

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 11.—The tinkle of glasses and the music of the halls, suppressed for thirty-four days by rebel invaders, was resumed today with the re-occupation of the holiday city of Juarez by loyal soldiers.

Tourists returned to the city to join residents in celebrating the return of the federal forces, driven out in the battle of March 7.

With the surrender of the small rebel garrison of 125 men and the establishment of federal government in the city the re-occupation was complete.

Re-occupation was accomplished without disorder by an advance detachment of General Juan Almazan's army and the farmer army of Colonel Manuel Prieto which halted outside Guadalupe, Tuesday night after General Marcelo Caraveo, millionaire governor of Chihuahua, had fled 2,000 of his army in a hasty flight westward to Casa Grande.

General Mauro Martinez, rebel collector of the port, invalidated by rheumatism, surrendered the city and his men unconditionally.

In disarming Gruber the judges said: "The court is unanimously of the opinion that the evidence offered in this case proves that Adolph A. Gruber was guilty of misconduct and unprofessional conduct in his office as an attorney at law, and that he was engaged in a plan with one John L. Schrimper and Bert B. Buckley, whereby the said Buckley agreed to use his political influence and his official influence, to prevail upon one Eckhart, a professional prohibition officer, to fail and refuse to enforce the laws of the United States, as set forth in the charges."

Gruber took the disbarment calmly.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The mystery surrounding the bomb found in the mails at the post office here Sunday addressed to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, has collapsed into the rather pathetic story of a man who wanted to be a hero and thereby get a raise in pay.

Thomas J. Callaghy, 45, postoffice porter, whose supposedly accidental kick caused a spurt of acrid smoke of house matches and disclosed the device, confessed to U. S. District Attorney Charles H. Tuttle today that he had manufactured the "bomb" and planted it in the post office where he worked so that he himself might discover it.

For eight years, he explained, he has worked as a porter in the post office, getting $1,600 a year and on that struggling to support a mother and sister.

CHARGED WITH MURDER
MARIION, April 11.—Mrs. Stella Johnson was remanded to jail today to await trial on charges of murdering her husband who was shot to death while he lay sleeping. Mrs. Johnson, when arraigned, pleaded not guilty.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., April 11.—The labor situation in this section assumed a new expression today with the charge by Sam R. Sells, president of the Johnson City Chamber of Commerce, that representatives of the American Federation of Labor had made false statements in connection with the labor troubles.

Sells offered to pay $1000 to the federation if the statements he mentioned were proved true.

He charged the federation with complete responsibility for the recent troubles in that "many misstatements have been made and apparently every effort been and is being made to incite discord and strife between employee and employer."

Sells referred directly to federation President William Green's statement at Elizabethton where Green commented on a statement attributed to the Chamber of Commerce saying the people of the region were simple minded and wanted but little.

Sells denied such a picture had been painted.

While in France during the war, as chief of the American supply purchasing organization, Dawes gave one of his pipes to Marshal Foch. It took the great strategist two weeks to get the "feel" of the new "upside-down" device. Later he became an enthusiast and wrote Dawes an amazing and chatty letter thanking him, and gives them away wherever he goes. He thinks they solve the pipe smokers problem. He has often told his friends that he had made more friends with his pipe than with any personal attribute. And since both Baldwin and Ramsey MacDonald, the labor leader, are pipe smokers, Anglo-American relations may be headed for a period of cool, sweet, understanding.

ENTIRE TOWN OBLITERATED

Tornado Levels Village In Five Minutes Survivor Reports.

BATESVILLE, Ark., April 11.—Within five minutes after the tornado struck the little town of Guion last night the village was virtually obliterated, W. E. Weaver, a resident of Guion, told the United Press today.

"I had just time enough to get to the storm cellar when it struck from the west," Weaver said. "I heard it coming and rushed out of the house to the storm house, just in time."

"When I knew from the sound that it had passed, I opened the storm door and saw practically every structure in town had been blown away. Probably seventy-five buildings were leveled."

"When I first saw the storm, it was hurling huge timbers and trees into the air."

"After it had passed, the Missouri Pacific depot was demolished, some forty houses were destroyed and nothing but the raft was left of the Guion bank. Seven stories were in ruins."

"Only five buildings in town escaped and no one has a home."

Anna Kavacs of Akron, who said her nephew, Nick Lengvel, had committed killing Burton C. Painter, for whose death Sabo was convicted and sentenced.

The affidavit was accompanied by Sabo's mother, Mrs. Joseph Hedebery, filed one in which she says Joseph J. Ivory, interpreter at her son's trial, has offered to save the condemned man for $3,500.

A third, filed by Mrs. Terevia Kelleman, Buffalo, N. Y., says a relative, Rudolph Kelleman, of Akron, had told her Sabo was not guilty but "that he would be crazy to admit it against his best friend."

Accompanying the affidavits was a request from Mrs. Cornelia K. Kalassy, Hungarian social worker at Akron, for executive clemency.

The governor is expected to consider the case today.

On Sunday, Sabo will have been in death row at the state penitentiary for two years.

CINCINNATI, O., April 11.—Adolph Gruber, Cincinnati attorney who was involved in the Buckley beer protection scandal, was ordered disbarred from the practice of law today by three common pleas court judges, Judges Thomas H. Darby, Thomas H. Morrow and Chester R. Shook.

The disbarment of Gruber follows similar action against John L. Schrimper, another Cincinnati attorney, who was sentenced to fifteen months in Atlanta for his part in the alleged plot.

Former State Treasurer Bert B. Buckley, who was also involved and is under sentence to two years and six months, also faces disbarment.

Buckley, Schrimper and Joseph Sperber, brewmeister of the Jackson Brewery here, were indicted last fall on charges of conspiring to bribe a federal agent to protect beer manufactured in the brewery. Gruber was named a co-conspirator but was not indicted.

In disbarring Gruber the judges said: "The court is unanimously of the opinion that the evidence offered in this case proves that Adolph A. Gruber was guilty of misconduct and unprofessional conduct in his office as an attorney at law, and that he was engaged in a plan with one John L. Schrimper and Bert B. SUGGESTED TARIFF INCREASE ON SUGAR WILL COST FARMERS

pense Of Sugar Buy-
ers To Raise

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Calculations by economists that the proposed farm relief tariff increase to be taken up by the congress which meets next week would take $25,000,000 net from the pockets of the farmers themselves, aroused interest here today.

The latest argument by the economists is in the form of a survey conducted under John R. Commons, noted University of Wisconsin economist, and two colleagues, received just after reports were circulated to the effect a house sub-committee has approved the sugar increase asked.

The proposed increase, according to the economists' survey, would cost every family in the country about $5 more a year for sugar. The 6,300,000 farm families, consuming an average of 405 pounds annually, would not be hit as hard as the city families, which average 432 pounds.

The sugar-growing farmers who would benefit by the tariff, constituting three per cent of the farm total, would profit by about $6,000,000 according to statistics.

Stated in another way, the total protection of the present tariff is $43,000,000 for the sugar farmers, and all the farmers pay $64,000,000 more for sugar under the present tariff; a net cost of the present tariff to farmers of $21,000,000 according to the economists.

The proposed tariff would provide $69,000,000 total in "protection" and the total tariff increase in the sugar purchasing by farmers would be $97,000,000—a net loss to farmers of $28,000,000.

The present tariff on Cuban sugar is 1.8 and 1.9 cents a pound, but intermediate charges by handlers were said to increase the consumer cost of tariff to 2.45 cents a pound.

The economists calculated the total ultimate consumer cost of the tariff on sugar would be increased from $293,000,000 to $443,000,000 by the congressional proposal; the government's tariff revenue from $134,000,000 to $213,000,000. Sugar taxes make up one-fourth of the import revenues of the government.

CINCINNATI, O., April 11.—Charles Marsee, 27, federal prohibition informer from Bryanville, Ky., was arraigned before the United States Commissioner here today on charges of "selling protection" and impersonating a federal agent.

W. F. Marcus, chief of the federal raiders here, said he and fellow agents trapped Marsee in a downtown hotel in the act of accepting $300 from John Bauer, Ludlow, Ky., at whose resort Marsee claimed he had purchased liquor.

Marsee said the trap was set after Marcus approached Bauer and exhibiting two bottles of whiskey, offered to destroy them "for due reimbursement."

Bauer went to the district attorney's office, Marcus said, and it was arranged that Bauer should meet Marsee in the hotel, conduct negotiations and "pay protection money."

The meeting took place and as the alleged "deal" was consummated, Marcus and other agents entered the room and arrested Marsee.

SPECIAL HANDLING

Entire Village Is Lev-
eled; Wind Hits
Lake Erie

NEWPORT, Ark., April 11.—National and state organizations rushed aid today to five northeastern Arkansas counties, where a devastating tornado last night cut a five-mile path of death and destruction.

Thirty-nine persons were known dead in the storm wrecked towns of Sneed, Guion, Parkin and Swifton in the foothills of the Ozark mountains. Reports of additional deaths, as yet unconfirmed, trickled in over crippled communication lines from Moorefield, Diaz, Prineville, Bay Village, and Batesville.

With the entire village of Guion leveled and 100 homes in the community of Sneed wrecked, relief agencies concentrated search on those two settlements today for additional dead and injured.

The known dead were distributed as follows: Sneed 14; Alletta, 11; Guion 3; Parkin 2; Batesville Hospital 3; Lorado 6.

Nearly 100 of the more seriously injured from the region of Sneed, Alletta and Swifton were taken to the hospital at Batesville, which escaped the storm. Three of the injured died shortly after day-break.

Sneed, a little community 4 1/2 miles from Swifton, bore the brunt of the storm with a death toll of fourteen known dead. Eleven were killed in the nearby village of Alletta. Guion was obliterated except for five small homes on the edge of the community. The town bank was reduced to a pile of wreckage, only the vault remaining standing.

The mortuary at Swifton, first town in the path of the tornado, held the bodies of the dead in the community around Sneed and Alletta.

As Red Cross workers arrived from New Port and Little Rock to organize the relief, additional fear was felt because of the swollen condition of the White and Black Rivers, already past flood stages and threatening to inundate the storm-swept area.

CLEVELAND, O., April 11.—Summer resorts and fishing colonies along Lake Erie from Buffalo to Sandusky were taking stock today of the damage caused by high winds which sent huge waves rushing over docks and breakwaters and swelled inland streams. Cleveland escaped the worst of the storm.

At Put-In-Bay small craft and numerous docks, including those of the state and federal fish hatcheries were swept away by the pounding seas.

Huge waves did similar damage at Avon Lake, Cedar Point, Kelleys, Middle and North Bass Islands and Big Island off East Sandusky was reported almost submerged.

Veteran lake men said the storm was unusual in that it caused the water to rise over such an extended area.

Among the summer resorts where shore cottages were damaged were Rye Beach, Whites Landing, Dew Drop, Crystal Rock Park and in the neighborhood of Port Clinton.

Fishing fleets along the lake were kept in their ports, nets were torn and destroyed and even in Lorain, where fishermen have been comparatively immune from storms for years, all commercial activities were suspended.

The Black River left its banks at Lorain and flooded Riverview Park. Toledo reported flood waters pouring into basements, and flooding nearby summer resorts.

Eleven families were rescued from their water-surrounded homes at Point Place by firemen and fishermen.

ACCUSE OFFICIAL OF EMBEZZLING

LONDON, O., April 11.—Ralph Thomas, superintendent of the Madison County Home for fifteen years, was under indictment today on charges of embezzlement of county funds over a period extending from July 20, 1927, to April 8, 1929.

Thomas was indicted on two counts. The first charges illegal use of $764.83 and the second covers revenue derived from sale of farm products produced on the Home land.

The board of county commissioners dismissed Thomas ten days ago and evidence on the alleged embezzlement was then presented to the grand jury. His successor has not been named.

HOLD AMNESIA VICTIM

TIFFIN, O., April 11.—Police today were seeking to identify a youth, apparently a victim of amnesia, who was found wandering about near Acacia. The boy said he does not know who he is although he keeps repeating the name "Claude Grisham."

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS ESCAPE FINAL EXAMS

Ten star students at Xenia Central High School were the envy of the remainder of the student body Thursday.

As a reward for placing among the leaders in the recent county-wide scholarship tournament, these students have been excused from the necessity of taking final semester examinations at the close of the present school year and will instead enjoy a short vacation.

The ten students who placed either first, second or third in the county "scholarship tournament" are: the Misses Katherine Chew, Annetta Price, Betty Lorimer, Betty Kingsbury, Ruth Love, Eileen Sayre and Evangeline Argerion, and Merton Leinberger, Andrew Frazer and LaMar Bennett.

These winners participated in the district contest at Miami University and four survived to take part in the state finals at Columbus. The four who went to Columbus were the Misses Ruth Love and Eileen Sayre, and Andrew Frazer and LaMar Bennett. Frazer placed first among Class B schools in one subject while Bennett placed second in the state.

School authorities disclose that it is possible the four students who took part in the state finals may be awarded scholarships at state universities. These scholarships would be worth $260 a year over a period of four years providing the college scholastic rating of the students corresponded to their high school standing.

The ten star students were honored at a special assembly Wednesday of the student body, at which they were introduced. In connection with this ceremony four teachers gave brief talks.

Mrs. Carl Nybladh spoke on "The Type of Pupil Chosen For the Contest"; Miss Olive Allen answered the question "Will Participation in

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS ESCAPE FINAL EXAMS

Ten star students at Xenia Central High School were the envy of the remainder of the student body Thursday.

As a reward for placing among the leaders in the recent county-wide scholarship tournament, these students have been excused from the necessity of taking final semester examinations at the close of the present school year and will instead enjoy a short vacation.

The ten students who placed either first, second or third in the county "scholarship tournament" are: the Misses Katherine Chew, Annetta Price, Betty Lorimer, Betty Kingsbury, Ruth L. O'V, Eileen Sayre and Evangeline Argerson, and Merton Leinberger, Andrew Frazer and LaMar Bennett.

These winners participated in the district contest at Miami University and four survived to take part in the state finals at Columbus. The four who went to Columbus were the Misses Ruth Love and Eileen Sayre, and Andrew Frazer and LaMar Bennett. Frazer placed first among Class B schools in one subject while Bennett placed second in the state.

School authorities disclose that it is possible the four students who took part in the state finals may be awarded scholarships at state universities. These scholarships would be worth $260 a year over a period of four years providing the college scholastic rating of the students corresponded to their high school standing.

The ten star students were honored at a special assembly Wednesday of the student body, at which they were introduced. In connection with this ceremony four teachers gave brief talks. Mrs. Carl Nybladh spoke on "The Type of Pupil Chosen For the Contest"; Miss Olive Allen answered the question "Will Participation in

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

LET US EXAMINE OURSELVES—Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground; for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.—Hosea 10:12.

DOING GREAT THINGS IN A GREAT WAY

A movement has been initiated in Paris to change the name of the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne to "Avenue du Marechal Foch." The French do not do such things by halves. When they set out to honor a great man by renaming a street for him they choose of that purpose a great street. The Avenue du Bois de Boulogne runs from the Arc de Triomphe, where lies an Unknown Soldier whom Marshal Foch commanded, to the famous park from which it takes its name; a magnificent boulevard, with whose fame and beauty those of the Champs-Elysees alone are comparable. Wiping out the ancient name by which the Parisians and millions of foreign visitors have known it for any lesser purpose than to honor a national hero would be unthinkable.

The native thoroughness of the French people may be depended on to make the change of name so complete that the fact that "Avenue du Marechal Foch" once was called something else will soon be forgotten. At least one of our southern cities fell short of that, when it changed the name of a side street from "Berlin" to "General Pershing." It altered the lamp-post signs; but left in the old pavement markers. A decade after the armistice a pedestrian on this street looked up and read "General Pershing," then he looked down and saw that he was still walking in "Berlin." That couldn't happen in Paris. The Parisians, if they rename the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne for Marshal Foch, will permit nothing to detract from the compliment thus paid to the memory of the greatest military genius France has produced since Napoleon.

FACE NOT INJURED BY SMILES

After grasping the outstretched paws of 5,775 tourists at one session, President Hoover retired from the fray with a sore and swollen hand. One woman declined to add to the executive suffering and received a grateful smile. Which may suggest a way out for the President. Give White House visitors a choice between a handshake from a glum-faced host and a smile without handshake from one bearing a glad and amiable countenance; and the hand that did not shake the hand of the President will become the hand that brings its owner honor and distinction. And by going into training, any man can smile and nod as though he meant it, for a few hours a week, without either cracking his lips or making his neck ache.

Your BROADWAY And Mine

By Walter Winchell

NEW YORK, April 9.—He is one of New York's better detectives. The other week-end he was given a description of a wanted man, and he set out to get him. He searched for his prey along the waterfront all day, and had to imbibe freely with the longshoremen he queried. At sundown he was pretty tight, but he staggered to the station house ready to admit he had failed.

But the fear of being prodded by his comrades kept him from entering the place. Instead he proceeded across the street to a speakeasy, where, while waiting for a drink, he looked in the bar mirror and saw the man he had been looking for!

It was himself! The boys had given him his own description!

PEOPLE I COULD CHOKE
Those salted almond peddlers in the night lubs, who, no matter how you snub them, keep hovering over your table, and chirp: "Salted almonds? ... Persons who say, 'I bet you don't remember me,' when it would be less embarrassing for both if they said 'We met at Soandso's, you know?'"

OBSESSION
A show christened "Young Alexander" has rewritten the times in the last four years the author waited for its production. It recently opened and contained this line: "Ridicule! The gasp of a dying critic!"

But the local reviewers heckled it and its last gasp came after five performances.

The Dolores Del Rio-Edwin Carewe romance has curdled, and a German physician deserted the Fatherland for Hollywood for her. ... Jean Bennett, whose rappy wamed her she would be a failure unless she went on tour with his show, is now Doris Keane's second lead in Calif and Ronald Colman's movie man interest. ... Add Drama: Irving Berlin, who was paid a stiff advance fee for a theme titled about a little boy, has returned the coin because his heart isn't in it. ... "I'll write one about a little girl," he is supposed to have said. ... John Morgan, ticket taker at the Globe for 20 years, holds a responsible position in a downtown bank in the daytime. ... Easter parade revealed several women smoking ciggies right out loud. ... They were planted there by a cigaret firm, which paid them a sawbuck each, with hopes of making it a fad.

Fritz Scheff clicked for 18 G's via the Chicago market and a tip from a Chi millionaire. ... The Herald Trib and the former Chief Citizen are Thinking Things Over. ... Oscar of the Waldorf and the local Park Rowers are not that way any more because of his Turney manner. ... John J. Raskob, William F. Kenny, Gerald Brooks and Thomas L. Chadburne have joined Herbert Bayard Swope in the control of the new Nat'l Radio Press Assn., Inc. ... A county judge has a fully equipped bar in his elegant apartment. ... One of the m. dramatic critics will be able to retire on his shrewd investments if his contract is not renewed. ... Al Capone has worked up enough courage to have his scars lifted.

THINGS I NEVER KNEW TILL NOW
That the Maxwell Coffee people have altered their slogan from "Good Till the Last Drop" to "Good to the Last Drop," because a subway rider wrote in to ask: "What's wrong with the last drop?"

That William A. Grew, producer of "My Girl Friday," refused to permit his name in the front of the theater before the show was raised. When he was given a clear bill of health he ordered his name in lights five times.

That George Jean Nathan once sold scorecards at the Phillips' ball park to defray his school expenses.

A $2,000,000 GYM
Yale is to have a magnificent new gymnasium to cost $2,000,000. It will have three swimming pools, forty squash courts, three basketball floors, a gallery for nearly 3,000 persons and so on. Sounds great and will attract students to Yale by the thousands. One wonders if money might buy a better quality of teaching in our great colleges and universities. Perhaps money cannot buy it. What will get it? How can we use these great educational plants to produce better folks?

THE THEATER

Probably Mr. Brady, famous theatrical producer, is wrong about it. We hope so. He predicts the end of the legitimate theater. It will go out of business in another three years, he says. Mr. Gilmore, head of the Actors' Equity Association, is an optimist. The theater is always "doomed," he says. It was 25 years ago, so people thought. Bicycles were going to kill it then. Now it's something else. And Mr. Gilmore, hopeful as he is, is probably also sound in his judgment. The motion pictures are increasingly more wonderful. But they are different. They do not take the place of the living, breathing drama. Why do we have to give up one good thing because we have another good thing?

WHY THAT?

A doctor finds a way to train appetite to gain weight. That may interest a few. Perhaps a way to curb appetite to lose weight would interest more. There is little understanding among humans. Animals let their physical needs determine their eating to a greater degree than humans. Humans eat with their emotions.

"CULTURE"

"It is from cultural relations that mutual understanding is established." So speaks Ambassador De Martino, from Italy. In opening an exhibition of 15,000 Italian books in this country is a beautiful gesture of friendship and of peace.

POLICY TO TERMINATE DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY TO PROHIBITION URGED

By LOUIS C. CLAYTON
Congressman from Michigan
(Louis C. Clayton was born in Lapeer county, Michigan, Dec. 2, 1875. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan. From 1899 to 1905 he practiced law at Lapeer, then published the Lapeer County Clarion until 1923. He was law clerk of the Michigan state senate for three sessions. In 1913 he was elected to congress from the seventh Michigan district and has been re-elected each term since.)

The recent muddle over the importation of liquors emphasizes again that it is time that the state department, the treasury department, and the department of justice collaborate in a definite program to impress upon the diplomatic representatives of other nations the need of more respect for the fundamental law of this nation.

Importation of liquors by these diplomatic representatives is unlawful. Transposition of such liquors from the point of importation to Washington is unlawful. While in the main the action has been appreciated and most of these diplomatic representatives have shown a proper attitude of respect for our laws, an unappreciative minority has not.

This minority, exceptions to the general rule in the diplomatic corps, has blatantly and consciously made manifest on repeated occasions their lack of regard for provisions in the constitution of the United States. They have endeavored to make the people and law enforcement agencies of the United States and their colleagues in the diplomatic corps in Washington.

The importation and transportation of such liquor is unlawful in the United States by diplomatic agents as by everyone else, as the 18th Amendment expressly prohibits such importation. So-called diplomatic immunity, a creature of international courtesy, is of legal effect only as recognized by the statutes of any nation.

The act of importation and act of transportation are unlawful. There is no problem as to what is the law. The only problem is of enforcement.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MRS. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

How often do women consider the interesting part in beauty which an attractive ear can play? Very seldom, I am all too sure. Usually the ear is covered by the hair, so that only the lobe comes into any prominence, and then simply because it furnishes the base to which an earring may be hung.

An ear may be a beautiful adornment in itself, if it happens to be of a natural lovely shape. Unfortunately we cannot do very much to change the shape of the ear in maturity. In cases of extremely ugly or deformed types of ears it has been necessary to resort to plastic surgery. But plastic surgery is an uncertain, expensive business, and when it is only the question of an ear, it is far better to cover the unsightly ear by a special arrangement of the hair than to go to extremes to change its shape.

Care of the ears during childhood or very early childhood days may have an important influence on their later shape. Baby's ears should be kept flat, tucked in at the sides of the head when a bonnet or cap is worn. And at night baby must not be permitted to sleep so that an ear is pressed out in the wrong direction.

The ear is such a delicate construction of cartilage and flesh that it can easily be trained to lie flatly at the side of the head, just as by carelessness it can be trained to stand out unattractively.

The girl or woman with a prettily shaped ear has an attraction whose value she may not have realized. If the style is becoming to her, she should, by all means, wear her hair in an arrangement which will permit her ears to show. Even for bobbed hair there are several attractive coiffures which show the ears. There is the extreme boyish type; and the longer, wavy type, in which the hair is drawn back over the ears, leaving one curl to nestle softly against the cheek. Then there is the style of bobbed hair which is "growing out." In this arrangement the hair is left long and the ends are curled. It is pulled back of the ears and held at the base of the head by a pin or comb.

With all these types of hair dressing, as with long hair worn in a chignon at the back of the head, leaving the ears to show, earrings may be worn. They can be worn, to be sure, by women whose ears are not beautiful, but only the tip of the lobe may then be allowed to show. An attractive ear, however, while it is beautiful even unadorned, can be charmingly accented by an artistically chosen earring.

Just how the mode for earrings is important and fascinating. There are earrings for all types of faces, coiffures and costumes. So varied and so many are the different styles that I am going to devote another article to their description.

Brookhart, Dill, Frazier, Howell, Johnson, LaFollette, Nye, Shipstead and Wheeler, in alphabetical order—"There is little intellectual or moral fiber in any of them," according to our anonymous sharpshooter.

Now the fact of the matter is that approximately the same bloc of Progressives had the necessary voting strength to wield the balance of power in the senate for six years, ending with congress adjournment last March 4, and during the first two or three years of that time they did wield it and accomplished a great deal. More recently they have not pulled together so well. With no loss in numbers, they lost much of their influence.

They were a strong fighting body, while the elder Senator LaFollette lived. Since his death they have been leaderless. By all good rights Senator Norris ought to have assumed command.

He failed to do it. He failed, of course, due to a lack of the right qualities in his make-up. It is not his fault that he lacks them, but neither is it Gerald P. Nye's fault. LaFollette's fault that they are mediocre senators.

As our anonymous author says: Brookhart and Nye have pretty well forfeited their standing as Progressives, but "old Bob" LaFollette would have kept them in line.

Shipstead would have been glad to follow the Norris banner.

So, probably, never a genuine liberal—and maybe H. Johnson—not as unreliable as the Idaho senator, but none too dependable, either.

Fluffy Mashed Potatoes
Buttered Asparagus
Grape Fruit Salad
Ice Cream with Butterscotch Sauce
Coffee

Why not acquire the habit of making plain ice creams and milk puddings and serving them with fruit or other sauces? Simply mash and sweeten the berries or other fruit to pour over the ice cream.

Today's Recipes

Chicken, Southern Style—Clean and disjoint a young chicken. Roll each piece in melted butter or pork drippings; then roll in flour which has been well seasoned with salt and pepper. Place a few strips of salt pork in a dripping pan and heat until there is sufficient fat to cover the pan. Put the chicken in the pan and set in a hot oven. When it begins to brown, add about one-half cup of boiling water. Baste frequently until well browned. Then cover the pan and let cook gently about one hour, or until the chicken is tender. Serve with the following sauce:

Melt two tablespoons of butter, stir in two tablespoons of flour, and form a smooth paste of the mixture. Add it to three-fourths of a cup of scalded milk. Allow it to cook until the mixture thickens, stirring carefully to prevent scorching. Now pour in gradually a half cup of cream, and season the sauce to taste. And there you have a real old-fashioned southern dish.

God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.—Jewish Proverb.

Mrs. D.—The abdominal band is usually left on only until the navel heals, and then a little knitted band is used. Be careful not to have the band too tight, because it is a frequent cause of discomfort in the baby and sometimes causes symptoms of colic.

"I have been pregnant three and one-half months, and I still nurse the first baby. Will you kindly tell me what effect this will have on the unborn child, and also on the one I am nursing? I have been told that it will affect the unborn baby's mind, and also make the present one sick."

The chief reason that a mother should not nurse a baby when another is on the way is that it is too much of a strain on her, for she is really supplying nourishment for two babies. It has absolutely no effect on the mind of the unborn babe, Mrs. E. In most cases it is best to wean the baby when another one is on the way, for not infrequently it is found that the milk does not agree with the nursing baby. In general, the baby should be weaned around the ninth month, anyway.

The following are the directions for weaning:
Begin the first week of the ninth month by omitting the nursing at the 2 p. m. feeding time. Give eight ounces of half milk and half water boiled to gether for three minutes. Use no sugar. Increase the milk one tablespoonful a day, until whole milk is given; no sugar. Stop boiling the milk, if certified or Pasteurized, after two or three weeks. The second week omit the 10

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

It's housecleaning time, and the sound of the broom and scrubbing brush is heard in the land.

As woman to woman, don't you think it would be a good idea for us all to do a bit of mental housecleaning also? It's the clean cut, mentally alert woman who keeps young and cops the admirers these days. And she's also the one who is happiest, and gets the most out of life.

Through clean, shining windows one gets the best look at the out-of-doors. And one gets the best look at life through clear, sparkling eyes. Troubles do not seem the same when seen through such eyes as they do out of clouded, smoky vision. If you are young and consider yourself unpopular with your acquaintances, get a mental picture as to what constitutes popularity and what it is worth.

If it's your husband who is bothering you—well, in these days one can get pretty happily without a husband. They don't loom so big since we learned that we each had two feet and they were made to stand on. I believe that, as a general thing, folks are happier married than single, but one can lead a happy and satisfactory life in a state of "single blessedness." And life is much more delightful so, than in trying to live with a mate with whom you are constantly at sword's points.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I have never written a letter of this type before, but you give many of your readers good advice, it seems, so here I am, just another one joining your line of 'broken hearts.'"

"I am considered a good looking girl and certainly ought to have had enough sense to pick on a man to fall in love with, but I didn't. A few weeks ago I met a boy somewhat younger than myself. He asked me for dates repeatedly and finally I gave him one. We spent a perfectly enjoyable evening, didn't get or anything, and when he had asked me for another date, which he failed to keep. He gave a good excuse and dated me for the following night. He failed to keep that also. Living next door, it is impossible not to see him and talk with him and really he acts real nice. The only thing I can make out is that, sometimes I just let loose and have a good time. I suppose I should settle down and be a 'real old maid,' but I am too much of a live wire for that. Please tell

"DIMPLES."
It was his place to pay for his own drink, although he was under no obligation to pay for yours unless he wished. As to the letter writing, such things are too trivial to have any connection with real love. Do just as you wish about answering. If he is so petty about things, why bother with him? Why not get yourself a real man friend?

OPTIMISTIC

"Thankful? What have I got to be thankful for? I can't even pay my bills."

"Why, man, be thankful that you are not one of your creditors."

"Honk! Honk! Honk!" Faint at first, but growing louder and louder came a sound that the boy thought for a moment was many voices, all shouting at once. Then he took it for the chiming of bells, but finally, as it came nearer and nearer, Peter grew frightened and at the same time happy. He could not have told why! The wild ringing called him long for something—just what, he didn't know—and suddenly warm little thrills ran from the tips of his fingers to his toes.

The call from the clouds! cried Gander. "The pride of our race are above us! Hail to the wild Geese! Honk! Honk! Honk!"

Look out for the troublesome Pittsburgh Pirates during the coming National League baseball season.

Donnie Bush, diminutive and determined manager of this dangerous diamond crew, has served notice that his Buccaneers must either toe the chalk line or walk the plank this season.

Bush has issued the ultimatum that there are to be no halfway measures and occasional lapses from discipline such as ruined the Pirates' pennant chances last year.

Members of his team have learned (to the cost of some) that good behavior is to be the order of the day—and the night, too, for that matter. To put teeth in his rules Bush has already started in by plastering heavy fines upon several of his players who ignored his edict against poker. Moreover, he has fined others for failure to be in the hay by 11 p. m., and at least one for mistaking a San Francisco speak-easy for a soft drink fountain.

But in every big league ball club there is a certain element which discipline is bound to rub the wrong way—and the unruly Pirates crew may be no exception. It remains to be seen whether Bush's tactics can curb the impatience of that element with an iron hand.

Comes this one concerning the doleful Gil Doble, head football coach at Cornell.

No sooner had the students of Cornell ventured to express the opinion that football reserves were not the worst catastrophes that could befall a university, than rumors spread that Gil Doble would soon resign.

Rumor spreaders looked at the matter this way: Of what use would Doble be, if there was no need of his weeping? Why keep a coach whose tears were tears of blood if, in fact, no defeat on the gridiron were not a serious affair? But the report of Doble's departure was immediately spiked as "silly" by Graduate Manager Romney Berry, so very possibly Gil will still be weeping away the autumn hours, regardless if he weeps alone.

More and more complicated becomes the question of who is to succeed Gene Tunney as heavyweight champion of the world. Eventually, the public will decide this question for itself. But the public is going to have a mighty hard time making up its mind with the present muddled situation further complicated by the entry of Jack Dempsey and Hubert Parry into the field. In the days when the late Tex Rickard ran the boxing game to suit himself, things were vastly simpler, for he succeeded pretty well in suiting the public, too.

BASKETBALL STARS RECEIVE REWARDS

As an additional reward for their services during the past season, seven members of Xenia Central High School's "Buccaneer" basketball team, champions of the Miami Valley League for the second straight season, were awarded miniature gold basketballs by the school's athletic council at an afternoon assembly of the student body Wednesday.

Letters were also presented to the seven players and a manager's letter was awarded to John Little, senior manager.

The presentation was made by Coach Walter "Pinky" Wilson, who introduced the players.

The following players received letters and gold basketballs: John Gibney, guard; Robert Buell, center; Ralph Scurry, forward; Joe Smith, guard; Birch Bell, forward; John Hurley, center, and Paul Weaver, forward.

CEDARVILLE OPENS WITH WITTENBERG

Minus the services of Albert Turner, star pitcher, Cedarville College's baseball team looked forward to being seriously handicapped in the season's opening game with Wittenberg College at Springfield Thursday afternoon.

Turner, the most dependable pitcher on the staff, sustained a cut on the chin and blood poisoning developed recently.

The 1929 season in the newly-organized C. A. W. League will be inaugurated Saturday when Antioch and Cedarville meet on the latter's diamond. Wittenberg and Wilmington are the other league members.

CRAWFORD CRAIG IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF COUNTRY CLUB

W. Crawford Craig, general manager of The Hooven and Allison Co., was elected president of the Xenia Country Club for the coming year at the organization meeting of the board of directors which followed the annual stockholders meeting at the offices of the Greene County Lumber Co. Wednesday night.

Mr. Craig succeeds Chalmers W. Murphy, retiring president. Other officers selected for 1929 are: H. L. Sayre, re-elected first vice-president; A. H. Finlay, second vice-president, and E. H. Heathman, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The new board of directors is composed of the following nine members: Mrs. Mary M. Meredith, Andrew Haninger, E. H. Heathman, W. C. Craig, S. M. McKay, Dr. E. J. Reynolds, H. L. Sayre, A. H. Finlay and C. W. Murphy. Finlay is the only new director.

Personnel of various committees, including a greens committee, tournament committee and house committee, is expected to be announced later by President Craig. No date was fixed for the formal opening of the club this year as this matter is always placed in charge of women members of the organization.

BASEBALL EXPERTS SELECT YANKEES TO TAKE LEAGUE TITLE

One Dissenter Is Favoring Senators To Upset Dope

NEW YORK, April 11.—The New York Yankees are overwhelming favorites to win their fourth straight American League pennant this season, according to a poll of baseball experts by the United Press.

Seven out of eight writers picked the Yankees to repeat. Based on a point-system whereby first place counted eight points, second place seven points, third place six points, etc., the Yankees received sixty-three points.

Receiving fifty-two points the Philadelphia Athletics are picked second. Six writers predicted the Athletics would finish second, one gave them third and the other dropped them to fifth place.

The only dissenting vote against the Yankees came from a Washington scribe who believes the Senators will break the Yankees' three year pennant monopoly as they did in 1924 after Miller Huggins' club had finished first in 1921, 1922 and 1923.

The composite prediction on the outcome of the American League race follows:

Team	Pts.	Finished
Yankees	63	First
Athletics	52	Second
Washington	42	Fourth
Cleveland	36	Third
Detroit	36	Sixth
Cleveland	22	Seventh
White Sox	17	Fifth
Red Sox	11	Eighth

Washington, Detroit and Cleveland are expected to show improvement, while the St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox are rated weaker than last season.

The Senators are picked to climb from fourth to third. The Tigers from sixth to fifth and Indians from seventh to sixth. The Browns are expected to drop from third to fourth and the White Sox from fifth to seventh.

While many of the experts believe the Yankees are no stronger than last season, they do not think any of the other clubs have improved enough to overhaul the world champions.

A Cleveland critic hints that the Yankees may be in for a tough season but can't see any club capable of beating them.

From the standpoint of a veteran New York writer the Athletics haven't a chance to beat the Yankees but are only the class of the remaining seven teams.

The Senators have a dangerous machine built around the winning personality of Walter Johnson in the opinion of more than one writer.

Two writers feel that the Athletics haven't been playing up to standard but will do so once the season opens and spring a surprise.

The St. Louis Browns, the surprise club of last season, can't keep up the pace this year, according to a New York expert.

Outside of the Tigers the consensus of opinion is that the second division clubs are of about equal strength. One writer commenting on them said: "Put Chicago, Cleveland and Boston in a hat, shake and take your pick. They're all pretty bad."

You, too, may have a clear skin

THOUSANDS of people have weak, impure blood—to this may be attributed pimples, boils, eczema, "run-down" systems, rheumatism and even more serious ailments.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get the number of your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, those pains usually called rheumatism, boils, pimples and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to disease.

Throughout more than a hundred years S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It is Nature's own blood tonic for improving the appetite, clearing the body of so-called skin troubles, and building strength and resistance to disease.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

S.S.S. increases the count of red-cells in the blood. Weak, impure blood is injurious to the system, lowering resistance to disease. Rich, red blood builds and sustains the body. S.S.S. helps Nature build rich, red blood. Good blood improves the processes by which the body is nourished, promotes constructive metabolism (healthy body building) and works against infection and disease. Take S.S.S. daily at meal-time. To get full benefit you must take it regularly and over a sufficient period of time. At all Drug Stores. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

LIQUORS POUR THROUGH ONE SEAPORT--IT'S FOR DIPLOMATS

Diplomatic liquor arriving at Baltimore for Albanian legation in Washington.

By KEEN A. RAFFERTY
Staff Correspondent for Central Press and Gazette

BALTIMORE, Md., April 11.—Through Baltimore the finest liquors in the world flow in broad daylight, and with every official sanction. Ships from the other side of the Atlantic, where there is no prohibition, arrive laden with vermouth, brandy, creme de menthe—all the traditional fine alcoholic drinks.

Stevardos unload case after case of whiskey and wine and pile them on the piers along Baltimore harbor.

And after a while a Japanese or an Albanian or a Czech-Slovakian comes down to the pier, presents papers issued by the United States government, and rides away with his truckload to stock his cellar in Washington, forty miles away, all in the manner prescribed by the U. S. state department.

Such, under the recent rulings following the seizure in Washington of a truckload of liquor destined for the Siamese legation, is the advantage of being a diplomat—he receives immunity from molestation under American law.

All Pours Through Baltimore

All diplomatic liquors must come through Baltimore.

In the last shipment, arriving on the British steamship Maryland, were consignments for envoys of eight foreign nations: fifty-three cases for the Germans, nineteen cases for the British, six bales of wine for the Albanian legation, ten bales of whiskey for the Porto Ricans, eleven bales for the Nicaraguans, five for the Bolivians, ten for the Brazilian ambassador, and thirty-nine packages for the Japanese.

R. W. Williams, of the English legation, arrived at the pier first to call for his. He presented papers obtained through the red tape

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. H. L. Sayre's Drug Store. —Adv.

No dry agent or policeman can interfere with the passage of this liquor under these circumstances—which is a fact too true for the good humor of some of the very-very dries in congress.

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with

All diplomatic liquors must come through Baltimore.

In the last shipment, arriving on the British steamship Maryland, were consignments for envoys of eight foreign nations: fifty-three cases for the Germans, nineteen cases for the British, six bales of wine for the Albanian legation, ten bales of whiskey for the Porto Ricans, eleven bales for the Nicaraguans, five for the Bolivians, ten for the Brazilian ambassador, and thirty-nine packages for the Japanese.

R. W. Williams, of the English legation, arrived at the pier first to call for his. He presented papers obtained through the red tape.

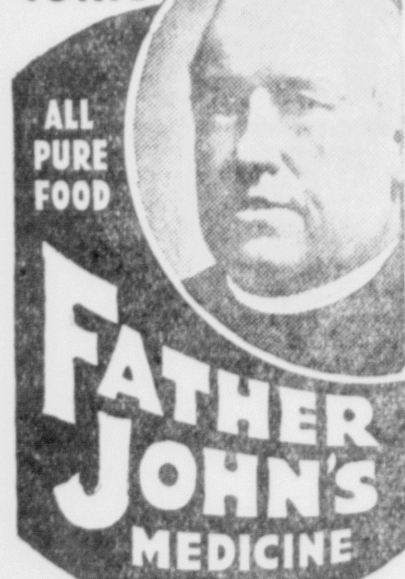

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuated bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

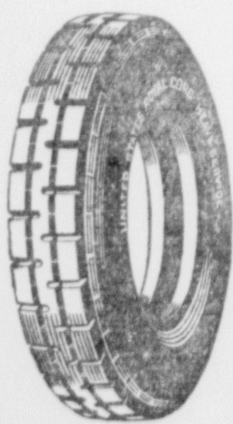

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. H. L. Sayre's Drug Store. —Adv.

Four States Seek Her

Little Nancy Ellen Hammond Keys is being sought out by the police after being kidnapped when a man and woman threw her big sister out of the car in which they were returning to their home at Hillsboro, Ohio, after a sleighing party. Merchants of Hillsboro have raised a fund of $1,000 as reward for the capture of the kidnapers.

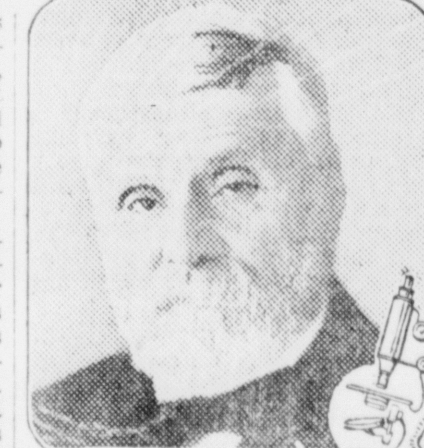

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs? All drug stores have the generous bottles.

Many is the family today that makes it a rule always to have a bottle of this perfect preparation in the house. Keep it handy and observe these three simple rules of health: keep the head cool, the feet warm and the bowels open.

Why not try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin today? Adv.

WHEAT PROSPECTS
IN GREENE COUNTY

Wheat prospects in Greene County are far above the average this spring, the Farm Bureau office here reveals.

The crop came through the winter with little damage and had an average condition of 81 as compared with 32 on April one year ago, 79 two years ago and 74 the ten year average condition on April 1st, says County Agent E. A. Drake. Owing to dry weather early in the fall of 1928 some wheat made a poor start and poor thin stands resulted due to poor germination. Rains later in the fall helped the crop and on December 1 the average condition was 84 per cent. The present condition is seven points higher than last December, whereas in only four instances in the past thirty years did the crop increase in condition from December to April.

The average condition for the state is 89 per cent and for the United States an average of 82 as compared with 68 one year ago and 80 for the ten year average.

"IT'S SURELY GREAT, THIS NEW KONJOLA" SAYS HAPPY LADY

Found in Three Bottles of New Medicine Relief She Never Expected to Enjoy

"This new Konjola is surely great. I had no idea there could be such a medicine," said Mrs. P. B. Eitel, 81 Ernst Avenue, Dayton.

"I have taken only three bottles of Konjola, and the results are greater than those I found in all the other medicines and treatments combined that I tried while seeking relief from stomach trouble and rheumatism. I was totally miserable. The lightest of housework was a drudgery. I suffered after every meal, no matter how little I ate. The rheumatic pains shot through my body like arrows.

"Friends recommended Konjola and I determined to give it a trial. What I thought was a trial treatment turned out to be all that I needed to rid me of the stomach trouble and the terrible rheumatism. I indorse Konjola with all my heart and soul, for it certainly was a boon and a blessing to me."

Konjola is different from any other known remedy in this section. It contains 22 juices extracted from natural plants, which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and run down systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product, until now, Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

Konjola is sold in Xenia at the Gallaher drug store, and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section.

[NOTCH BACK] STEEL POSTS

The Fence Post with the 6-Plus Values

- Reinforced. A heavy reinforcing rib runs the entire length of the post. This gives additional strength and rigidity.
- Notched Back. The Bull Dog Double Grip fasteners slip into these notches and hold the fence for keeps. Cattle cannot crowd it down or hogs root it up.
- Bull Dog Double Grip Clips hold the wire on both sides of the post. Six times the resisting power of the old-type staples.
- Smooth Face. The face of the Notch Back post is smooth with all the metal in the post. Makes for easier stretching, too.
- Anchorage. A broad, triangular anchor plate is riveted to the post. The anchor cannot come loose.
- Sharper Point. The Notch Back drives faster. There are records of one driven in 12 seconds and 300 records of one driven with the Notch Back one-man driver.

Build with Notch Backs this year and build better and more permanently. We have a complete stock on hand. Come in.

EICHMAN ELECTRIC SHOP TAKES AGENCY FOR "ELECTROLUX"

Eichman Electric Shop, W. Main St., owned by H. E. Eichman, has taken the Greene County agency for Electrolux, a mechanical refrigerator, which reduces its temperature with heat rather than by a motor and operates with a small gas flame.

The refrigerating system of making cold with heat was devised by Swedish scientists and after its perfection, the rights for this country were purchased by Serrel, Inc., Evansville, Ind., manufacturer of Electrolux in this country.

On the principle that refrigeration is the art of removing heat, the Electrolux operates with a gas flame that causes a sealed solution of ammonia and distilled water to vaporize and circulate through coils within the box. The vapor then condenses into liquid ammonia and evaporates, the evaporation taking up the heat in the box and reducing the temperature. When the ammonia again comes in contact with the water it is re-absorbed and repeats its transition, continuing its operation silently as long as the heat is applied.

"The World War," a motion picture utilizing a great portion of the world as a set, was viewed by children of the O. S. and S. O. Home Wednesday night.

This unusual picture is being shown in this city under auspices of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion, and has been described as "at once the most thrilling and authentic history of the World War that has ever been told in pictures."

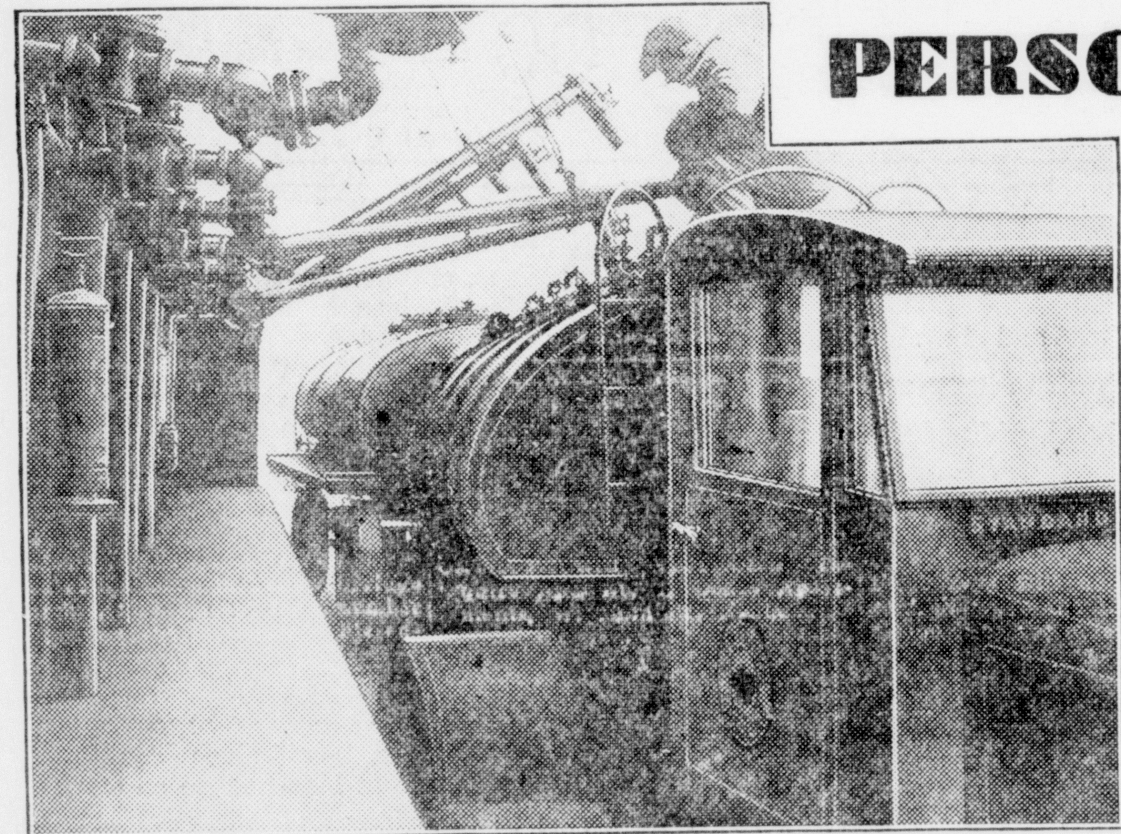

The picture was shown at a matinee at the Bijou Theater Thursday afternoon and two shows will be presented at the same theater Thursday night, starting at 7 and 9 o'clock.

SOHIO QUALITY is a PERSONAL TRUST

From bulk storage to service pump
...one man is responsible

MODERN EQUIPMENT and extra refinery care establish the high quality of Standard Oil (Ohio) products. Extra precautions preserve this high quality, from refinery to bulk storage, from bulk storage to service pump.

Each Standard Oil tank wagon or tank truck driver is a vitally important cog in the great machine that brings Sohio and Red Crown to your gasoline tank. For he is made personally responsible for each load he transports from storage tank to service station or dealer.

He fills the truck tanks himself—knows exactly what is in each compartment. His loading report is checked before he leaves the bulk station. He personally closes the fill-dome covers. At the delivery point he himself unloads the truck—making certain that only Sohio goes into Sohio tanks, only Red Crown into Red Crown tanks.

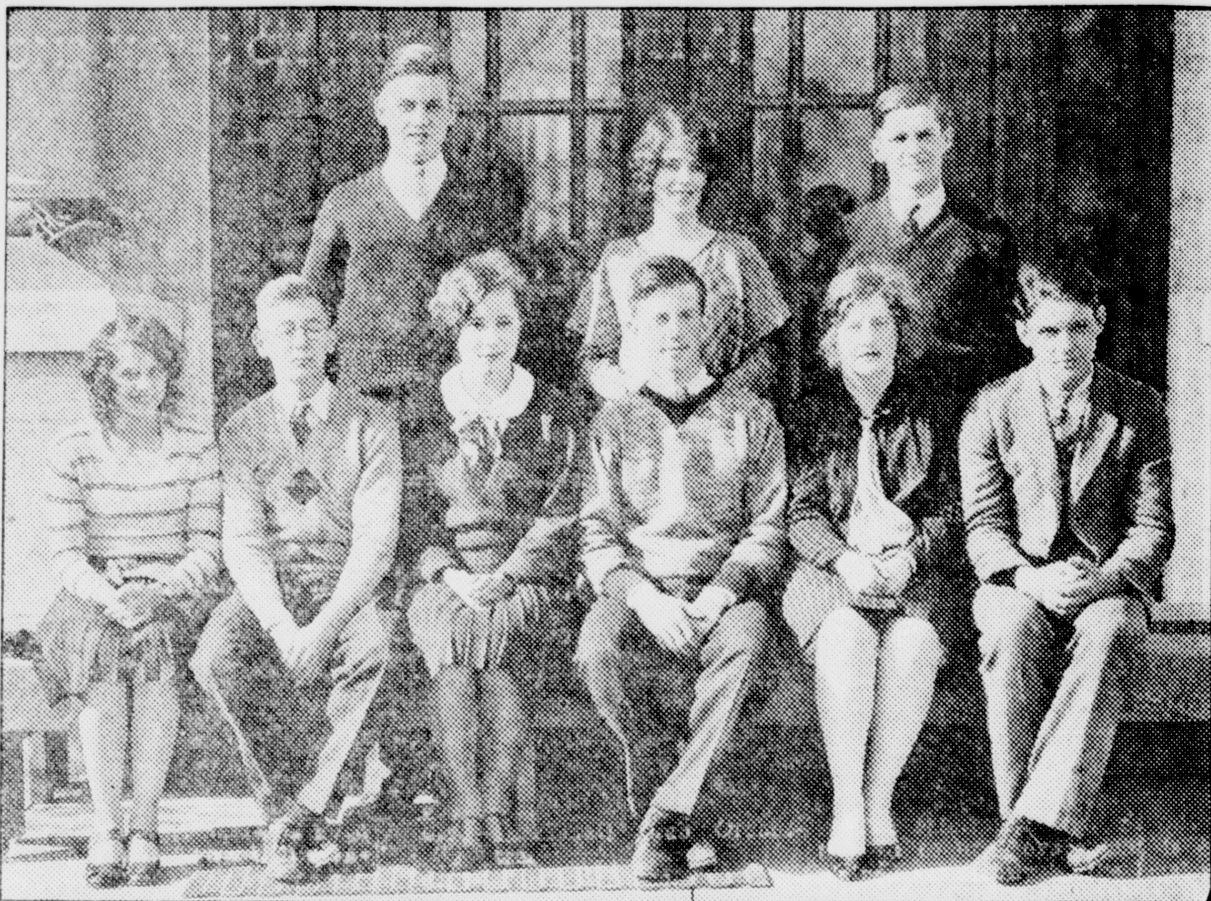

These men take keen pride in the part they play in preserving the extra quality of Standard Oil products. We give them the best modern equipment, to be sure. But even the most perfect mechanical safeguards cannot take the place of this human interest. And these men are typical of the 4500 Ohio men and women devoting their days to the maintenance of the high standards of quality of all Standard Oil of Ohio products.

If you have tried Sohio in your own car you know what the pride these Ohio men and women take in their daily work means to your motor. If not, try it today—learn for yourself that there is a difference in gasoline! For sale at Red-White-and-Blue Standard Service Stations and dealers' pumps throughout the State.

TREES PLANTED IN
SHAWNEE PARK HERE

Twenty-six trees—some replacements in the forty-tree section planted in memory of the Revolutionary War soldiers of Greene County by the D. A. R., and others along the White Ribbon trail—were planted in Shawnee Park Wednesday by the Xenia Garden Club.

The garden club stands ready at all times to plant and work any trees placed in the park or in memory of anyone.

The club is sponsoring a meeting in all the public schools on Arbor Day in order to acquaint pupils with the correct method of planting trees that may be purchased for one cent under an arrangement made by the organization with a local nursery.

These trees are to be planted in the home yards of the children.

FINDING OF DOLL'S
BODY EXCITES MEN

Reports that the headless body of a child found in the Tuscarawas River near Gadenhutton, Ohio, Thursday might be that of Melvin Horst, 4, missing Orrville boy, were dissipated when it was learned the body was that of a large doll.

Excited clam diggers who found the supposed body, spread the false reports. Orrville authorities were notified and Coroner J. F. Nevins of New Philadelphia and Prosecutor Marion Craven and Special Prosecutor Walter A. Moughley of Wooster started for the scene. The Horst boy has been missing since December 27. Elias Arnold, 55 and his son, Arthur, 17, are serving sentences imposed after being convicted of kidnapping the child.

TREES PLANTED IN
SHAWNEE PARK HERE

Twenty-six trees—some replacements in the forty-tree section planted in memory of the Revolutionary War soldiers of Greene County by the D. A. R., and others along the White Ribbon trail—were planted in Shawnee Park Wednesday by the Xenia Garden Club.

The garden club stands ready at all times to plant and work any trees placed in the park or in memory of anyone.

The club is sponsoring a meeting in all the public schools on Arbor Day in order to acquaint pupils with the correct method of planting trees that may be purchased for one cent under an arrangement made by the organization with a local nursery.

These trees are to be planted in the home yards of the children.

UNDERGROUND A LOVE AND MYSTERY STORY

BY J. JEFFERSON FARJEON

Copyright, 1929, by Central Press Association, Inc.

READ THIS FIRST:

The plot concerns some weird noises that ab one can fathom. They are underground sounds and they come from beneath a supposedly haunted house, near the sea. One day a young, romantic clerk, named Brown—just plain Brown—ate lunch in a King's Cross restaurant. As he was leaving, he overheard one of two hard-looking individuals say: "After her! And if she's troublesome—don't be particular what you do to her!" Brown got a brief look at the girl, but that convinced him she was the most beautiful girl he had ever seen. He decides to follow the girl and warn her. He trails the girl to the railway station and spends all most of his pay for a ticket to her destination. He boards the train as it is moving out of the station.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

Matters had moved with such dizzy speed that, until now, there had been no moment for sober reflection. Only half a dozen minutes had elapsed since Brown had jumped up from the table in his restaurant, and those six minutes had contained more than usually came to Brown in a month. For more in fact, it began to dawn on the modest little clerk that they had contained more than he had previously experienced in the whole of his twenty-four years of life.

But sober reflection came to him now—when it was too late to retract. No. 3 platform of King's Cross station was slipping backwards, to become a confused memory in this strange new reality, and Brown had a weird feeling that he was becoming detached from himself, and that the Brown who had eaten the poached eggs—who had been going to play in a tennis match that afternoon, was already very far away. Yes, this, surely, was a new Brown! Not a very heroic one, certainly, or a confident one, but a Brown who, finding the die cast, was deciding to abide by the throw.

For that attitude was the result of Brown's sober reflections as the powerful engine snorted and a steamed northward. "I dessay I am a fool," he thought, "but I'm a fool." Anyhow, he was in it now, and the only thing was to adopt the Britling policy of seeing it through.

"Yes, but if I'm going to see it through, I got to keep my wits," he argued to himself. "I got to keep my wits," he argued to himself. "I got to keep my wits," he argued to himself. "I got to keep my wits," he argued to himself.

His practiced fingers sought his pocket, and counted the wealth there. He knew it must be over tea dollars—he had been unusually saving all the week—and he found it was eleven dollars and eighty-four cents. Three dollars and four cents above the return fare, assuming he completed the journey. H'm! Not a great deal to cover accidents!

"Well, there mustn't be any accidents," decided Brown. "I must just find the girl, get a word to her somehow, find out if there's anything else I can do—and then hop it back as soon as I can."

Towards this end he began to walk eastwards along the corridor into which he had leapt as the train had started.

From this moment, Brown's determination never wavered. The girl sitting in the far corner of the fourth carriage, with her back to the engine, was the girl he dreamed about, the inaccessible gold that threaded through all his secret fancies. She was the hope of all the boy's dreams. (And his dune themselves if they imagine they always plant their own pictures in their readers' minds.) She was the girl who applauded all his imagined exploits, to whom he had proposed, just before going to sleep, on countless occasions and in countless ways, whom he had saved from fires, from wrecks, from mad dogs, and from run-away horses. And here she was, in the living flesh, with real danger threatening her, and only Brown between!

Strictly speaking, he was not between her and the danger yet. The danger sat opposite, in the form of five-foot-two of unsavory manhood in a loud check suit.

There was one other occupant of the compartment, an elderly, black-gowned dame, surrounded by parcels. Brown thanked heaven for her existence, for had she not been present, who could say what might not have happened in that compartment in the last two minutes?

The elderly lady was sitting on the same side as the little man. Brown, praying devoutly that he was not looking as red as he felt, took the seat opposite the elderly lady. Thus he was on the same side as the pretty girl, albeit separated from her by an appreciable space. The little man was ominously closer.

Still, Brown could watch the little man carefully from his position, and this he proceeded to do. His entrance had created some small psychological disturbance. The elderly dame looked at him rather suspiciously (for he had selected the compartment late in the journey). The little man frowned slightly. The girl turned her head a little, betraying vague curiosity. But nothing definite materialized, which Brown attributed to the fact that he kept very quiet, and a few seconds after his entry, he hoped—forgotten.

So far, so good. What next? Brown found himself in the disconcerting position of a man burning to do something, yet having nothing to do. What was even more disconcerting, he did not know in the least what kind of a thing he would eventually be called upon to do. Would the little man suddenly whip out a knife, plunge it into the breast of his vis-a-vis, and jump out of the carriage window?

As this appalling thought came into Brown's mind, he drew an inch or two farther from the woodwork between him and the corridor, and nearer the girl. Or would the little man

UNDERGROUND A LOVE AND MYSTERY STORY

BY J. JEFFERSON FARJEON

Copyright, 1929, by Central Press Association, Inc.

READ THIS FIRST:

The plot concerns some weird noises that no one can fathom. They are underground sounds and they come from beneath a supposedly haunted house, near the sea. One day a young, romantic clerk, named Brown—just plain Brown—ate lunch in a King's Cross restaurant. As he was leaving, he overheard one of two hard-looking individuals say: "After her! And— if she's troublesome—don't be particular what you do to her!" Brown got a brief look at the girl, but that convinced him she was the most beautiful girl he had ever seen. He decides to follow the girl and warn her. He trails the girl to the railway station and spends all most all of his pay for a ticket to her destination. He boards the train as it is moving out of the station.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

Matters had moved with such dizzy speed that, until now, there had been no moment for sober reflection. Only half a dozen minutes had elapsed since Brown had jumped up from the table in his restaurant, and those six minutes had contained more than usually came to Brown in a month. For more in fact, it began to dawn on the modest little clerk that they had contained more than he had previously experienced in the whole of his twenty-four years of life.

But sober reflection came to him now—when it was too late to retract. No. 3 platform of King's Cross station was slipping backward to become a confused memory in this strange new reality, and Brown had a weird feeling that he was becoming detached from himself, and that the Brown who had eaten the poached egg—who had been going to play in a tennis match that afternoon, was already very far away. Yes, this, surely, was a new Brown! Not a very heroic one, certainly, or a confident one, but a Brown who, finding the die cast, was deciding to abide by the throw.

For that attitude was the result of Brown's sober reflections as the powerful engine snorted and steamed northward. "I desay I am a fool," he thought, "but p'rhaps it's better to be a whole fool than half a fool." Anyway, he was in it to the hilt and the only thing was to adopt the Britling policy of seeing it through.

"Yes, but if I'm going to see it through, I got to keep my wits," he argued to himself. "I got to keep my wits," he argued to himself. "I got to act quick, and I got to get back tonight, if I can."

His practiced fingers sought his pocket, and counted the wealth there. He knew it must be over ten dollars—he had been unusually saving all the week—and he found it was eleven dollars and eighty-four cents. Three dollars and four cents above the return fare, assuming he completed the journey. H'm! Not a great deal to cover accidents!

"Well, there mustn't be any accidents," decided Brown. "I must just find the girl, get a word to her somehow, find out if there's anything else I can do—and then hop it back as soon as I can."

Towards this end he began to walk engineering along the corridor into which he had leapt as the train had started.

From this moment, Brown's determination never wavered. The girl sitting in the far corner of the fourth carriage, with her back to the engine, was the girl he dreamed about, the inaccessible gold that threaded through all his secret fancies. She was the heroine of all the books he read. (Authors dupe themselves if they imagine they always plant their own pictures in their readers' minds.)

She was the girl who applauded his inimagined exploits to a word to her, had proposed, just before going to sleep, on countless occasions and in countless ways, whom he had saved from fires, from wrecks, from mad dogs, and from run-away horses. And here she was, in the living flesh, with real danger threatening her, and only Brown between!

Strictly speaking, he was not between her and the danger yet. The danger sat opposite, in the form of five-foot-two of unsavory manhood in a loud check suit.

There was one other occupant of the compartment, an elderly, black-gowned dame, surrounded by parcels. Brown thanked heaven for her existence, for had she not been present, who could say what might not have happened in that compartment in the last two minutes?

The elderly lady was sitting on the same side as the little man, and Brown, praying devoutly that he was not looking as red as he felt, took the seat opposite the elderly lady. Thus he was on the same side as the pretty girl, albeit separated from her by an appreciable space. The little man was ominously closer.

Still, Brown could watch the little man carefully from his position, and this he proceeded to do. His entrance had created some small psychological disturbance. The elderly dame looked at him rather suspiciously (for he had selected the compartment late in the journey). The little man frowned slightly. The girl turned her head a little, betraying vague curiosity. But nothing definite materialized, which Brown attributed to the fact that he kept very quiet, and a few seconds after his entry he had been tacitly accepted and— he hoped—forgotten.

"Be careful!" the girl cried.

So far, so good. What next? Brown found himself in the disconcerting position of a man burning to do something, yet having nothing to do. What was even more disconcerting, he did not know in the least what kind of a thing he would eventually be called upon to do. Would the little man suddenly whip out a knife, plunge it into the breast of his vis-à-vis, and jump out of the carriage window? As this appalling thought came into Brown's mind, he drew an inch or two farther from the woodwork between him and the corridor, and he watched for Or, more likely still, he would wait until he got the girl quite alone. Hang on her heels until that happened, and then—

Well, it wouldn't happen! Brown would hang on her heels, too! He'd hang on until Doomsday—or until he had seen her safely home somewhere or other. Where? And would she ever be safe, unless she received some definite warning of her danger? He tried to think of some method of warning her. Perhaps he could write a message, or something.

He opened his eyes. He was not in a dentist's chair. He was in a train. There was the wonderful girl. And there was the evil little man. And there, her head sunk a little forward, was the elderly dame, surrounded by one less parcel. The one less parcel was on the floor.

Brown's forehead was slightly damp. He wondered how long he had been asleep. He glanced towards the girl, and noticed that her head, also, was sunk a little forward. He wondered whether she were dead! Quick panic seized him. He had to do something. The only thing he could think of was to pick up the parcel.

He bent down, noiseily.

"Is this yours?" he asked, in an unnaturally loud voice.

The elderly dame raised her head suddenly and indignantly.

"Gracious, how you made me start!" she exclaimed. "Yes, it's mine. It must have—Thank you."

The girl stirred, too. Brown was satisfied. He swore he would not go to sleep again. He felt that the World of Respectability had a right to place him against a wall and shoot him.

The incident of the parcel appeared to have a revivifying effect. The little man stretched himself, and brought his right leg forward a little. Brown found himself watching it ridiculously.

"She's makin' good time," observed the little man, to anybody who liked to hear. Apparently, nobody liked to hear. The little man was not perturbed, however. Taking a package of cigarettes from his pocket, he extracted one slowly, and then looked directly at the girl. "Mind if I smoke, miss?" he asked, civilly enough.

The Theater

News dispatches report that Poli Negri paced the streets of Paris yesterday seeking a motion picture theater where she could worship the shadow of Rudolph Valentino.

The actress is said to have left her home at Chateau Seraincourt for Paris by motor, announcing she would seek a theater where a Valentino picture was being shown and spend the day there. Her servants say she has never lost her love for the dead Valentino, even many ex-colleagues sprinkled throughout the theatrical business, in an article by Claude Binyon that apparently refutes the theory expressed by A. H. Thomas in a recent Saturday Evening Post that college men are missing an attractive field by not going on the stage.

Binyon points to Tim McCoy, who turned from West Point to cowboy pictures; Ed Gorman, who studied for the ministry and became a monologist in vaudeville; Paul Whitman, who studied mining at Boulder; Richard Ringling, son of the circus king, who landed in opera after a course in electrical engineering. Others are: Richard Dix, Minnesota U.; and Howard Bretherton, Stanford; Lord Bacon, Santa Clara; Archie Mayo, Columbia; Bryan Foy, DeLaSalle and Michael Curtiz, Budapest U., all of whom are Warner Brothers directors.

though she is married to Prince Serge Mdivani, and it is reported that she will seek a divorce from the prince on the grounds of incompatibility. Her chateau is filled with portraits of Valentino.

"Redskin", the picture at the Bijou the last two days, featuring Richard Dix, is a really remarkable film because of the color photography. The picture also landed in Xenia simultaneously with the close of its New York run.

Norma Talmadge is happy over plans for her next United Artists starring vehicle because it will be her first all talkie and her first feature picture in years with a strictly American locale.

Norma's next will be "Tin Pan Alley", a fast-moving story of modern-day metropolitan life. Gilbert Roland, who has been Miss Talmadge's leading man in "Columbia", "The Dove" and "The Woman Disputed", will appear with her in the newest in a brand new characterization. Laura Hope Crews, the stage actress who has been coaching both in voice, say their stage voices rank with the best. Norma landed her first picture job as an extra in the old Vitaphone studio in Brooklyn eighteen years ago.

NEW YORKER WILL GIVE ADDRESS
AT CENTRAL HIGH GRADUATION

Cameron Beck, personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange, will deliver the commencement address at graduation exercises for the senior class of Xenia Central High School at the First Methodist Episcopal Church Monday night, May 27.

Mr. Beck, who is at present on a speaking tour of the state of Massachusetts, has been associated with the personnel office of the stock exchange for some time and selects all employees.

Working under the board of directors made up of Wall St. financiers, Mr. Beck discovered that a problem exists with regard to boys applying for jobs with the hope of developing in the financial field.

Beck investigated the difficulties they encounter and the personnel bureau of which he has charge devotes much time to proper placing and training of young men. A school was established for their special benefit and financial experts regularly talk to them about various problems.

His commencement talk here will concern the problems faced by boys just out of high school and desiring to get into the business world. He will describe various necessary qualifications for success in business and is said to be himself well qualified to speak with authority on this subject, having come in contact with men who failed and others who succeeded in New York.

Mr. Beck came to Ohio more than a year ago and addressed a holiday meeting of the state educational association. He annually goes on a speaking tour and his services as a speaker are in constant demand by high schools and higher educational institutions.

Announcement is also being made that the Rev. H. B. McElree, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, will preach the sermon at the Baccalaureate service at the First M. E. Church Sunday night, May 26. His subject will be: "Investment of Life."

Music at the commencement exercises will be furnished by the high school orchestra under the direction of E. G. Whitworth. The high school chorus under the direction of William Hugh Miller will furnish vocal music at the Baccalaureate service.

When your Children Cry for It

Mothers, who take one simple precaution, are seldom worried. With a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria in the house they can do what their doctor would tell them to do, when baby is fretful, feverish, colicky, constipated or stuffed-up with cold—give a few drops of this pure vegetable, pleasant-tasting preparation. It comforts Baby and soothes him to sleep in a jiffy. It's perfectly safe for the youngest infant. Use it freely—and as often as needed, specialists advise. A more liberal dose is all it takes to comfort and relieve older children, when feverishness, bad breath, no appetite, colds, etc., show they need a good purging. The mark of genuine Castoria is the Fletcher signature on the wrapper. Look for it to avoid imitations.
